The consumer shall provide the plants, shrubs and trees with all reasonable and proper care

CUSTOMERS RESPONSIBILITY

The customer is responsible for providing the following maintenance: 1. Watering all plants. This should be done by thoroughly wetting the root soil mass every 2-3 days during the growing season provided there has not been a least one inch of rain in the interim period. Do not over water plants as this can cause as much trouble as underwatering. A good method of checking soil moisture is to dig through the mulch, using your finger, into the top two inches of soil. This should be done within two to six inches of the trunk of the plant. If soil is wet, the plant will have sufficient moisture. 2. Cultivation. Keep plants free of weeds.
